JACK DUNN WILL ATTEND MEETING

Richmond's New Baseball Leader to Be Present at McGill Union To-Night.

LARGE OUTPOURING EXPECTED
Amateur Ball-Tossers Will Be Addressed by Well-Known Speakers, and Will Be Given Opportunity to Register With the Federation.

Jack Dunn, of the Baltimore Orioles, and part owner of the baseball club, will represent Richmond in the International League next summer, will attend the big meeting at McGill Union to-night. This fact should serve to interest the amateurs out in large numbers. Dunn is a well-known figure in the amateur ballplayer, and has picked up many a star from the lots in Baltimore, and it is expected that the same will hold good in this city.

The meeting, which will be an open one, will be held at McGill Union to-night, and will be attended by well-known speakers, and the ball-players will have an opportunity to register with the Federation.

An opportunity will also be given to every player present to ask questions concerning the relation of the Amateur Athletic Union in reference to amateur ball players. This has been a much discussed question, and a host of contentions among amateur ranks for the past three years.

Ball players who have professionalized themselves, and who have been given the penalty imposed, will be given a chance to regain their amateur standing. This subject will be discussed in full, and it is expected that the Federation will be able to settle the question of amateurism in the future.

The Federation has only the most friendly feeling toward those who take the amateur view, on this question of amateurism. The Federation is made up of athletic organizations, not of individuals, and the policies adopted by the Federation are for the protection of its members. This year, the Federation is offering its amateur protection to all who are willing to be allied with the Federation for protection, but who do not care to tie up with the Federation. The allied groups may take part in baseball or other sports fostered by the Federation, but the registration covers only the sport engaged in, and for the season governing that sport.

FITZGERALD TO FORCE
WELSH INTO MATCH

NEW YORK, January 12.—It is the intention of Pete Fitzgerald, manager of the Shugrue-Cross team, to force a decision on the Shugrue-Cross team, after the outcome of the Shugrue-Cross bout, Wednesday night at Madison Square Garden.

Fitzgerald, to show his sincerity in the matter, will post a $5,000 forfeit with a prominent sporting man of New York, the money to go as a guarantee to make any weight Welsh may name, and a like amount will be paid on the side bet providing the contest is held within two rounds or more.

Shugrue is expected to match with the champion than any other man in that division, said Fitzgerald, and White at the Garden are certainly enough evidence that he has the most formidable of the contenders.
